Frequency	every time
Issue category critical/major/medium/minor	medium
Description
During a registered process, a user must create a password. Now, the system only checks its length, but it's too little to maintain a high level of security against account hacking.
Expected result	Maintain very high level of account security.

Actual result	Uncomplicated passwords can be broken by undesirable persons, and an account will be lost, or hackers can place an order on behalf of the account owner.
Suggestions	- add requires to created passwords: low/high letters, numbers, a unique signs - force an appropriate number of signs - signal insufficient quality of a password
